

OVER $9,000 RAISED FOR Y.M.C.A. WAR FUND

Nearly a Third of Ulster County's Share of the Red Triangle Fund Raised in Less Than Two Days—No Reason Why the $30,000 Should Not be Exceeded.

With an enthusiasm equalled only in the Red Cross campaign, the workers in the Big Y. M. C. A. drive met for their second luncheon today. All types of business men were present to engage in this service for the soldiers at the front. The lack of denominational feeling was marked by the men present. Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile sat down together to listen to the daily report of the team captains on the work in which all unite in a common interest.

The women who waited on tables and did the arduous work of the dining-room are all fired with a fine ardor and patriotism manifested in the intense interest shown in the figures and reports.

As soon as the luncheon was eaten and the clatter of dishes had subsided, H. H. Flemming called for the reports of captains, each one of which was received with enthusiasm and applause.

The reading of figures was enlivened by occasional bits of experience from a table here and there. One of the captains reported a subscription from a man who gave it with the comment that he didn't believe in the Y. M. C. A. work and thought the secretaries were grafters and the captains of the teams loafers. The question was put: "Shall we accept this man's money?" Loud cries of "No" sounded throughout the room, and this unwilling giver will get his money back.

Another captain reported that only three men on his team were working. Somebody yelled: "Put the ladies on" and a general laugh resulted. The banner team today was F. B. Matthews's, whose men collected $438, and the little bunch of allied flags was carried to table No. 7 by Captain Joe Herbert, who owned it yesterday. The results were as follows:

LOYAL RUSSIANS WINNING VICTORY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 13.—Victory is crowning the arms of the loyal Russian forces under Premier Kerensky. A cablegram from the Russian frontier received today by way of Stockholm, says that the Bolshevik revolt has already been put down. The provisional government forces that entered Petrograd on Monday, after a fierce struggle south of the city, are now masters of a big portion of the capital. There was a sharp action in the Nevsky Prospect, the principal street of Petrograd, before it was cleared of the Bolshevik borders. Many persons have been killed and wounded in the fighting around Petrograd, according to advices from that city, and the loyal troops are making many arrests of Bolshevik leaders and anarchist agitators.

LETTERS FROM ARMY CAMPS

More Men From Company M Have Been Transferred—Kingston Soldier Writes From Chicomauca in Appreciation of The Freeman.

Camp Wadsworth, Spartansburg, S. C., November 9.
We are having fine weather here and in the day it's warm enough to go about without hat or coat. Of course at night it turns cool but we have all been issued tent stoves we manage to make it nice and comfortable. This life agrees with me and I wish to say that all the boys are well and enjoying the best of health. The grub we get is of the best and we get plenty of it, so we have no kick what-so-ever.

The Y. M. C. A. is far ahead of any other organization in furnishing us soldiers with reading and writing materials, also ink, paper and envelopes, and they deserve a lot of credit for the good work that they are doing for the soldiers in the various camps and I think if the citizens of Kingston subscribe to their campaign that they will have nothing to worry about and everything to feel proud of, because it will benefit each and everyone of us from Ulster county. We had eight transfers in the past week. The following men were transferred to the 105th Machine Gun Company, which is a part of the 27th Division and will no doubt see service in France: Jack McAndrew, H. Robinson, Ed. Carman, John Glass and William Burton. The next transfer of three men was to the Trench Mortar Battery, as follows: Joe Kearney, Charles Ingram and Ike Trowbridge. These fellows were not forced to go, but voluntarily offered their service as they were anxious to get a crack at the Kaiser, and it does not mean the breaking up of "M" company or the Tenth Regiment.

Chicomauca Park, Ga., Nov. 10th, 1917.
To Editor of The Freeman.

Dear Sir:—I am just in receipt of one of your valuable papers and would like to say that I look for them as much as I do for a letter from home. Have received a number of letters from strangers from home through your giving them the address of soldiers and sailors and wish to state that they are always welcome to a man in the service. Hoping to receive a good many more copies of The Freeman, we leave for the other side and wishing you success, I am as ever a soldier for Old Glory and Victory.

LAST CALL FOR CHRISTMAS PACKETS

The Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross has asked The Freeman to announce that all Christmas packets must be at the Red Cross headquarters on Broadway not later than 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It will be impossible to send those received after that time, as the packing cases will all be provided with a view of containing those received up to that time. It is the hope of the committee in charge that all of the packets going from this chapter may go to France, especially if all are shipped tomorrow. Therefore, if you have an unfinished packet this evening and have to make additional purchases to complete it, please do so very early tomorrow morning and have them at headquarters tomorrow morning before 10 o'clock. Never mind if it is a bit inconvenient to do this! Are you not preparing Christmas, home Christmas, for some man at the front, in cantonment or on shipboard, who is doing and giving his all and his best for you? Think of that and have your packets ready in time.

Perrine's Bridge Re-opened.

T. I. Rifenbary & Son of this city have completed the work of re-flooring and placing new stringers on the Perrine's bridge near Rifton, and it has been reopened to the public. The bridge is one of the most important in that section of the county and the hundreds of people whom it serves are greatly pleased that they no longer find it necessary to make detours to reach their destination. The entire bottom of the bridge was rebuilt, heavier timber being used in it than formerly and in its present condition it should last for many years.

Repairing Downtown Streets.

This morning work was started repairing downtown streets. It is also expected to lay Whittle on Wurts street between Spring and McEntee streets. HOME CHARITIES NOT NEGLECTED

Social Service Bureau Finds, That Its Appeals for Necessary Clothing Are Promptly Acted on by the Charitable.

It has been thought and even said, that the American people are sending things to Europe with such a lavish hand that our own charities will be neglected. This is not so in Kingston. Our citizens are always ready to respond when the call comes for the needs of the neighbor at their door.

Two weeks ago The Freeman published an appeal for the Social Service Bureau for clothing. The morning after the article appeared, things began arriving at Mrs. MacMillan's office and they have flowed in steadily ever since.

Men's suits and trousers, women's dresses and hats, underwear for grown people and children, splendid stockings for school children neatly mended and ready to give out, much needed bedding of all kinds. And about as fast as the things came in, Mrs. MacMillan gave them out again to families who were in want of just such articles.

Great care is taken at the bureau in distributing these things. Every family who shares in the distribution is personally known to Mrs. MacMillan and has been visited by her. The women who take home the worn out underclothing are women who are clever in making over these garments for their little children. Men who get the overcoats and sweaters are men with outdoor jobs who simply couldn't work if they didn't get something to wear, and few of these men could spare one money to buy an overcoat this year.

Many things have come in but almost everything has been already handed out again, showing the immediate need for these very things. The bureau acts as an intermediary between those who have and those who want.

If any reader still has clothing or bedding in the attic which will not be used this winter, let them make the hard time easier for some poor Kingston family by giving such articles to the Social Service Bureau rooms on O'Reilly street. If too bulky to carry, telephone Mrs. MacMillan about it. Especially needed, now, are boys' and girls' shoes and stockings, underwear, mittens and gloves, and then always overcoats and overcoats and overcoats.

GENOVA SENT TO DANNEMORA

Slayer of James Brown Charged his Plea of Not Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree to Guilty of Manslaughter in the First Degree.—Three Other Cases Disposed of This Morning.

Four cases were disposed of this morning in the criminal term of the county court held in the court house here, County Judge Jenkins presiding. Court was then adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:
Rosario Genova, charged with second degree murder, changed his plea of not guilty to this charge to guilty or first degree manslaughter. The court sentenced him to Clinton prison at Dannemora for a maximum sentence of 19 years and 6 months and a minimum sentence of 9 years and 6 months. Genova, by good behavior, can bring this sentence down to 5 years and 5 months.

Joseph Ferro, charged with assault in the second degree, changed his plea of not guilty to this charge and entered a plea of guilty to assault in the third degree. He was sentenced to 4 months and 17 days in the county jail.

Waisil Schloepke changed his plea of not guilty of assault in the second degree to guilty of assault in the third degree. He was sentenced to 4 months and 17 days in the county jail.

Daniel Carney, charged with assault in the second degree, pleaded guilty, withdrawing his former plea of not guilty. The court stated that he would sentence Carney on Friday.

The Murder Case.

Rosario Genova was represented by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier, Sr., who in announcing that Genova was willing to withdraw his plea of not guilty of second degree murder, to guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, made an eloquent plea for Genova. He stated that he was a man of good reputation and was an industrious worker and that the crime was committed in a moment of anger and that Genova was insulted and abused by James Brown (whose real name was Emido De Demontis), the victim of the murder. Mr. Brinnier said that the deed was not committed with a desire to kill, but the shots were fired in a moment of intensity of feeling. A tribute to the Italian race was paid by Mr. Brinnier who stated that many Italians are now fighting for this country.

District Attorney Traver said that he was willing to accept the change in plea, but he thought that the court ought to sentence Genova to the maximum penalty under his plea, which would be 20 years.

The judge said that according to Carlisle's table of mortality that Genova had 9 1/2 years to live, and that he would give him a sentence that would give him a chance to spend a little of the rest of his life out of prison.

Story of the Crime.

The victim of the murder, James Brown (Emido De Demontis) kept a hotel and liquor store at Atwood, about five miles from Olive Bridge, and it is said that Brown and Genova had quarreled over the fact that the Italians in Tongoro, where Genova was living, did not buy liquor from Brown.

On the evening of February 12 of this year, Brown drove an army officer to Brown's Station. A short time previous to this, on that same day or evening, it is said that Brown and Genova had quarreled at the house of an Italian couple in Tongoro.

Brown was returning from the drive to Brown's Station when he was shot twice by Genova, who escaped and was caught a day or two later in Walden, and a Smith and Wesson revolver, with two cartridges exploded, was found in his possession.

After the shooting, Brown was brought to the Kingston City Hospital where he died the following day.

The Ferro Case.

Last April, Joseph Ferro after indulging in liquor at an affair with other Italians, near East Kingston, got into an argument over a woman. He pulled out a gun and fired at Amelia Ceonia, but the shots went wild.

John W. Eckert, who appeared for Ferro, said that he was an industrious man, and that it was the liquor that got him in trouble. Ferro's conduct since he has been in the county jail here has been exceptionally good.

Judge Jenkins said that he was aware of the circumstances in this case, and he thought that if Ferro would leave whiskey, beer and wine alone, that he would make a good citizen to the community.

The judge sentenced Ferro to four months and 17 days in the county jail, and also made Ferro pledge himself, after he got out of jail, to refrain from touching wine, beer or whiskey for one year.

Case of Waisil Schloepke.

N. H. Fossenden appeared for Waisil Schloepke, charged with assault in second degree, stated that Schloepke wanted to change his plea of not guilty to the original charge and plead guilty to assault in the third degree. The district attorney consented to the change of plea.

The assault was committed on September 17, in the town of Poughkeepsie, upon Jacob Hyman, who had employed Schloepke for a few days on his (Hyman's) farm. Hy-

SERIOUSLY ILL AT CAMP DIX

Augustus Gully, better known as "Gus," of Hunter street, is reported seriously ill in a hospital at Camp Dix. Mr. Gully was a member of the second contingent from Ulster county to Camp Dix. His father and sister left today for Camp Dix. A later report was circulated downtown this afternoon that he had died in the hospital. This could not be certified, however. The first report was that he had to undergo an operation on the neck and that his condition was serious.

Frederick Huber of Saugerties has been certified back by the district board for the Southern Judicial District of New York to the local board of Division No. 2 of Ulster county for service in the National Army. Huber's order number is 271 and his red ink number is 1,102.

BATTLE RAGES ON PIAVE RIVER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 13.—The battle of the Piave river—an engagement which may prove one of the most fateful in the history of mankind—is today in full blast.

The actions around Longarone and Bellune and in the mountains north of the Piave river and east of the Sugana Valley may be regarded as preliminary skirmishes leading up to the grand struggle.

Even if the Italians fall back upon the Adige river and abandon their Piave defenses together with Venice and Padua, the fight probably will go down in history as the battle of the Piave, for it was there that the combat really got under way.

The stiffened resistance of the Italians on their left bank has caused the Teutons to renew with vigor their attacks along the southern tip of Trentino. On the Asiago Plateau a fierce struggle developed and time after time the Austro-Germans were sent forward to the attack, only to be driven back by the defenders.

So far no official announcement has been given out as to the location of the British and French troops on the Italian front, but it is supposed that they are being used to strengthen the Italian left wing. This section of the Italian armies was seriously menaced by the "plunger tactics" of the Austro-German commanders, but was able to extricate itself with the loss of some prisoners.

ELKS' FLAG HAS TWENTY-TWO STARS

Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. Elks, today unfurled in front of the Elks' Club House on Fair street a service flag in honor of the members of the lodge who are in active United States service as members of some branch of either the Army or Navy. The lodge has twenty-two members in service and the flag consequently contains twenty-two stars. The flag has been unfurled on the piazza of the club house, at the left of the entrance, a large American flag occupying a corresponding position at the right of the entrance.

man's right arm was broken.

Mr. Fossenden stated that Schloepke claimed that Hyman would not pay him the money due him when Schloepke left his employ and that the fight followed over this money.

Schloepke has a wife and four children in Russia.

The court sentenced Schloepke to four months and 17 days in the county jail.

Case of Daniel Carney.
In the case of Daniel Carney the judge said that he would pass sentence on Friday. Carney was represented by Corporation Counsel Brinnier, who said that after consulting with Carney that Carney had decided to withdraw his plea of not guilty of assault in the second degree and plead guilty, asking for the leniency of the court.

Mr. Brinnier stated that he had been talking to a former employer of Carney's, and that this man in question was willing to take the responsibility of having Carney paroled under his care.

The judge stated that he had also been talking to this man in question, and that he (the judge) would look into the matter and pass sentence on Friday.

Carney assaulted a police officer, Charles Flannery, when the officer was serving a warrant on April 19 of this year on Carney, charging him with second degree rape.

Holly Packages for Soldiers

Put Up by Forsyth & Davis

Gifts Are Not Easily Selected, This Being the First of War Holidays, So Go to it Early.

By The Freeman's (no longer Mysterious) Mr Fox.

What to send the soldiers for Christmas this year is a new problem in the economic life of this country—the first holiday purchases you are to make for your boys now that they are engaged in war, whose wants cannot easily be determined at home.

If you would make the most appropriate selection it would be in the big store like Forsyth & Davis's on Wall street, where in the making up of stock for the 1917 holiday trade they have kept in mind the soldiers' Christmas needs.

Gifts to the boys in Uncle Sam's service naturally suggest important facts to be kept in view by the purchasers.

The convenience as well as the utility of what you send is important. Troops are not to be burdened with personal chattels that cannot be stowed away easily on their persons.

Obviously gifts that are daily most useful would be suggested.

Gifts distinctly apart from such as you understand organized aid has forwarded are to be considered.

There is the soldiers' diary (the "Daylog") in khaki colored binding that Forsyth & Davis have procured for their trade and that is sold at nominal prices. It is one of the most useful and acceptable of gifts, very easily carried in the pocket; affording the boy many pleasant hours with the satisfaction he may get in making a record of events that the folks at home will prize. The history of the war will largely be written from soldiers' diaries.

The soldiers' mirror selected by Forsyth & Davis's buyers gives the most service for they are made of nickel over bronze and come in leather or imitation leather cases. Though the military mirror is sent in comfort kits it is all right if they are duplicated for they are easily lost.

The vest pocket Kodak will furnish the boy many happy hours. It is small, actually vest pocket size, just a handful of real utility for amusement in camp if nothing more. Though with what is permitted by the censor the box will film many interesting scenes. An autographic note book for recording the pictures and a liberal quantity of films should go with it. You get the best of this outfit at Forsyth & Davis's.

Stationery is a natural suggestion. Forsyth & Davis can provide you with that which is the handiest, writing home under all conditions, which are often difficult in soldiering. There should go with it the Waterman's fountain pen, made in short size to carry in any way and it does not leak. A liberal supply of fountain pen writing fluid can be carried in the soldier's kit in a wooden jarred bottle not to be broken. Without writing fluid kept from gathering dust the fountain pen is useless.

There are many other useful things that one would not think of until going over the stock in Forsyth & Davis's. Light, wearable checkers, chess, cards and dominoes are just a few of many things to delight the soldier.

When you have selected your gifts Forsyth & Davis will put them up in a special "Christmas Holly Package." A Testament or Bible with khaki colored binding should go in every package, selected by Forsyth & Davis for the soldiers.

If you are sending across the seas you have until November 24 to mail your package and insure its arrival by Christmas Day. Early attention to packages for the home camps is just as essential to avoid the later days' rush. The best selections you can depend on getting now to be sent early in December. There may be difficulty in the future in getting what you want for stocking up when it is not a sure thing with the merchants.—Advertisement

Nuts on Sticks. The early German and Galle dwellings were mere huts, some raised above the ground on stumps, and only accessible by ladders (like many of the houses of New Guinea at the present time), and others resembling somewhat the primitive cabins of the prehistoric lake dwellers. Their roofs were low, thatched with coarse straw and reeds, and there was usually but one window, high up under the eaves. It was a long time before these were displaced by more solid structures.

CITY'S STREETS IN GOOD CONDITION

Extensive Improvements Have Been Made This Year—Considerable Willite Pavement Laid—Graded Streets Have Been Oiled.

Many remarks have been made lately in regard to the general good condition of our city streets. Of course, not all of the streets have been improved, and it could not be expected that they would be. An effective start has been made toward putting the streets subject to a large amount of traffic in good condition.

The following streets have been improved with Willite pavement: Railroad avenue; Albany avenue; East St. James street; West Chestnut street, from Montrose avenue to the top of the hill; Clinton avenue from Albany avenue to Cedar street; Hasbrouck avenue from Mill street to St. Mary's street; Maiden Lane; Green street.

The following streets are now being improved or under contract with Willite: Abeel street from Post street to Hone street; John street from Wall street to Green street; Main street from Wall street to Johnston avenue; Wurts street from Abeel street to West Union street, and from Spring street to McEntee street; Downs street and West Union street from Broadway to Wurts street.

The street department has put a bituminous macadam pavement on Thomas street; Hone street from McEntee street to Spring street; St. James street; part of West Pierpont street and Mill street. Cornell street and Pearl street have been likewise improved. Hurley avenue has also been completed through the State Highway Department.

Every graded street has been oiled, except the brick streets and many other streets besides. The board of public works has carried on its other work of collecting ashes and garbage, and cleaning streets and laying and cleaning sewers in the usual satisfactory manner. The board has already partly mapped out its work for the next year, and a list of streets contemplated being improved has been published.

KRIPPLEBUSH.

Nov. 12.—The Ladies' Aid of Kripplebush were again very active on Thursday, November 1. After cutting Mrs. J. J. Osterhoudt's corn they thought they would again lend a helping hand at husking. Most of the ladies having sampled Mrs. Osterhoudt's cooking desired to come in the morning. Leroy and Warner S. Osterhoudt came with the first loads of corn. They found some ladies already waiting to go to work. They worked faithfully, keeping the men driving corn for them. At noon all were hungry enough to thoroughly enjoy the hot chicken dinner that Mrs. Osterhoudt served to them. The ladies spent a busy day, ably assisted by W. S. and Leroy Osterhoudt, Cyrus Vandemark and Lucas Barley. Some remained long enough to help Mrs. Osterhoudt finish the remains of dinner. Thinking it lots of fun to revive the customs of "Ye Olden Times" Mrs. Osterhoudt deems it an honor to belong to such a willing band of workers and extends heartiest thanks to all.

Mrs. Byron Wood entertained Mrs. Vana and Mrs. T. Westbrook, Mrs. Van Aken, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. John Miller last Wednesday. While there the ladies did some quilting and spent a very enjoyable time.

Once again the hospitable home of Leroy Osterhoudt opened wide its doors to admit the members of the Ladies' Aid and their children to celebrate the 52nd birthday of our oldest member, Mrs. Thomas Osterhoudt.

The clouds are rolling away,
And Spirit will talk with spirit

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

Prepare strips of stale bread about an inch and a half wide and four inches long, spread with butter on both sides and set into the oven until delicately browned on both sides. When ready to use, spread with mayonnaise dressing, press chopped white of egg in a narrow row all around the pieces of bread, then a row of the yolk of egg, in the center place a tip of tender cooked asparagus and sprinkle with finely chopped parsley. Serve a single canape as one service.

Hamburg Roast on Surprise.—Remove all the skin from a pound and a half of round steak, put the meat through a food chopper; add one egg, beaten light, one tablespoonful of fine chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of onion juice, a teaspoonful of salt, one fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika, and a third of a cupful of soft bread crumbs. Mix and shape into a loaf longer than wide and set into a baking dish; take out some of the mixture in the center to leave an open space equally distant from each end; into this break two eggs, cover with the meat and sprinkle the top with crumbs mixed with melted butter. Bake a half hour, basting five or six times with pork or bacon fat. Parboil a pint of potato balls, cut with a French cutter, fifteen minutes and place them around the meat when it goes into the oven. Bake the potatoes as the meat is baked. Serve around the meat. Make a sauce after the meat is removed from the gravy in the pan, adding flour, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper for seasoning. If water is needed to add to the gravy save the water the potato balls were cooked in as it is rich in mineral salts.

Rice With Raisins.—Drop a cupful of rice into a kettle of salted water and keep it at a fast boil so that the grains do not stick together. When tender, drain and add a cupful of seeded raisins and peek into a buttered mold. Steam for 10 minutes, turn out and serve with plenty of butter and scraped maple sugar.

KINGSTON, N. Y., NOV. 13, 1917.

Great good ought to result from President Wilson's address to the American Federation of Labor in session at Buffalo. He made clear one point which is not generally understood, but which is of the utmost importance. That is, that it was the intention of Germany to dominate all the labor as well as all the capital of the world, and not by "superior achievement," but with the purpose of accomplishing "success by authority." Consequently, this is the laboring man's war in a special sense, and any man who stands in the way of prosecuting it to a prompt and successful finish is an enemy to labor as well as a traitor to his country. No reasonable man under these circumstances can disagree with this statement by the President: "Nobody has a right to stop the processes of labor until all the methods of conciliation and settlement have been exhausted." That means that there must be no more of the senseless strikes which have occurred during recent months arising out of disagreements which might easily have been settled in the beginning, but which were not settled until much damage had been done. The President says there must be no more of this, but explains that the rule is to be enforced not "by the power of the Government, but by the power of the American spirit." Judging by the applause which greeted the Chief Magistrate's remarks, organized labor will do all in its power to prevent any further stoppage of industry. The great body of unorganized labor, which is many times larger than the Federation, doubtless entertains like sentiments.

Unfortunately, organized labor is unable to prevent all strikes. Those which have occurred have mostly been engineered by I. W. W. agitators in opposition to the orders of the American Federation of Labor. The growth in numbers of these I. W. W. terrorists has been startling. Some of them have been hired by German gold and some of them are just naturally possessed by the devil. It is their aim to destroy all private capital by any means that come handy. Reason cannot reach them, and the jails are too few to hold them. If the war is much prolonged it will probably be necessary to pass some sort of a conscription law. It ought not to be beyond legislative skill to frame a measure which would in no way curtail the liberty of any honest and honorable working man but which would make it feasible to extract labor from hoboes and incendiaries under bayonet rule. If the Government can conscript soldiers it can surely conscript laborers. The whole question is one of advisability. What we all want is the utmost liberty for patriots and stern compulsion for others.

TWO KINDS OF GERMANS.

As commander-in-chief of armies guilty of savage and bestial cruelties the Kaiser's frequent invocations of the Deity have astonished a startled world, which has naturally voted the pious paradox a sham. But the Kaiser's persistence in this tended to convince the thoughtful that he knew what he was about, even before the diaries found on dead German soldiers and evidence from other quarters showed that conscience and Christian feeling, though crushed down under the dominant forces, still survived in Germany. We know now that there were at least a few Germans who shrank from the massacre of helpless Russians at the Masurian lakes, who turned in sickness of soul from the butchery of Canadian prisoners at Ypres, who abominated the mutilation of killed Scotchmen, who denounced—at least in whispers—the working of Belgian female slaves under artillery fire and the other atrocities exhibiting cruelty and ruthlessness in their most barbarous form.

The explanation is simple. There are two classes of Germans—one still Christian, believing in God and revering the old moral standards; the other purely materialistic, casting Christianity and morals aside, accepting the modern philosophers, believing only in the right of might. How much larger the second class than the first is of course unnecessary to say, but the first is or was large enough to make it worth the Kaiser's while to appeal to its Christian faith, as he so often did. It is notice-

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Horace Boice of the town of Ulster has been admitted to probate in the surrogate's court. The Hurley Cemetery Association is the perpetual beneficiary.

At the outset the German militarists evidently believed that they might become devils incarnate with perfect safety. Having abolished God and the future life, they expected no reckoning in a world to come, and, being confident that they could conquer and dominate the world, they had no fear of being awarded their deserts by any human tribunal. The Kaiser is wrong. The sword can regain for Germany the respect of the world only by conquering it completely, and even then the "respect" would be only such as is rendered by helpless slaves. Otherwise the process of regaining the forfeited respect of free peoples will require a century, even with the now suppressed part of Germany which has a conscience in the ascendant.

War News.

A few evenings ago at the Hotel Biltmore, an officer of the allied armies who fought at the Somme, narrated this:

"One of the German officers who was made a prisoner at one of the battles of the Somme, together with many of his men, asked me: 'Where are you taking us?' 'London,' I replied. 'But you cannot take us there,' answered the German officer. 'The battle of Jutland destroyed the English fleet, you cannot get us across the channel, and there is no London. London has been wiped out by the Zeppelins and our warships.' 'All the same, my friend, you and your men are to be sent to London,' I replied."—Wall Street Journal.

Protecting His Dog.

Bismarck once attended a gathering of professional men at the house of a Russian nobleman. During all the conversation he was particularly sarcastic, cutting friends and opponents unsparringly. When he rose to take his leave and walked down stairs, the host called a pet dog that was frisking about, and led him to one side.

"Are you afraid the dog will bite me?" asked Bismarck. "Oh, no," replied the host. "I'm afraid you'll bite the dog."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Unlucky Answer.

Her husband had just come home and had his first meeting with the new nurse, who was remarkably pretty.

"She is sensible and scientific, too," urged the fond mother, and says she will allow no one to kiss baby while she is near."

"No one would want to," replied the husband, "while she is near." And the nurse was discharged.—Tit-Bits.

WOMEN'S BRANCH HOME DEFENSE

At the meeting of the Women's Branch of the Home Defense Committee of Ulster county, as it was voted that the name should be held in the Supreme Court Chambers on Monday afternoon a working organization was effected, and a preliminary move was made toward actively taking up the work of food conservation in this county.

The meeting, which was attended by a large majority of the committee members in the city as well as several representative women from the county, was called to order by Mrs. Hymen Roosa, temporary chairman, with Miss Ellen Van Slyke, temporary secretary. Following the reading of the minutes of the inaugurating meeting, a communication from Judge John G. Van Etten, chairman of the Food Conservation Administration for this county, was read. Judge Van Etten again outlined the work of the committee, emphasizing the great need of saving food in this country, and made a few valuable suggestions as to the forming of the organization, etc.

The first business of the afternoon was the electing of officers, as follows: Chairman, Mrs. John L. Schoonmaker; first vice chairman, Mrs. John G. Van Etten; second vice chairman, Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy; recording secretary, Miss Ellen Van Slyke; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Tappen; treasurer, Mrs. George Hutton. Committees were then appointed as follows:

Committee on By-laws: Mrs. William Lawton, chairman; Mrs. M. J. Michael, Mrs. C. G. Ellis, Mrs. Charles De La Vergne, Mrs. C. G. Hardenburgh. Committee on Organization: Mrs. P. J. Higgins, chairman; Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Edward Coykendall, Mrs. John B. Kearney, Mrs. William K. Fessenden; Mrs. James Jenkins. Membership Committee: Mrs. Everett Fowler, chairman; Mrs. O. E. Sarre, Napanoch; Mrs. A. V. Hornbeck, Miss Eliza A. Cox, Ellenville; Mrs. A. V. Dimock, Peekamoose; Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Van Winkle, Stone Ridge; Mrs. Ira Snyder Cottekill; Mrs. C. V. Hasbrouck, Rosendale; Miss Grace V. B. Roberts, Highland; Mrs. William A. Warren, Hurley; Mrs. DeWitt Ostrander, Clintondale; Mrs. G. W. Ross, Port Jervis; Mrs. Walter Wyle, Woodstock; Mrs. John T. Washburn, Saugerties; Mrs. Abram Le Fevre, Mrs. Philip Deyo, Mrs. George DuRoi, New Paltz.

Committee on Recipes and Information: Mrs. M. J. Michael, chairman; Mrs. B. J. Coykendall, Mrs. Watson Freer, Mrs. J. O. Winston, Mrs. Frank Dewey, Mrs. John Forsyth, Mrs. Frank Powley, Mrs. Guilford Hasbrouck.

Committee on relatives of men in service: Mrs. De La Vergne, chairman; Mrs. William De La Vergne, Mrs. Maegher, Mrs. A. Vogel, Mrs. Ira Snyder, Cottekill.

As special streets had been laid upon the importance of having returned the pledge cards sent out to the women of the county by the food administration, it was voted that this work should be given immediate consideration by the committee on organization. A further resolution offered, was adopted, to the effect, that the matter of officially bringing the problem of food saving to the notice and consideration of all hotels and restaurants in the city be placed in the hands of the organization committee.

As a necessary preliminary for the further transaction of business, it was voted that quorum of the committee should consist of not less than nine members.

Before adjournment was taken to next Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the same place, Mrs. Schoonmaker, chairman, asked that all chairmen of committees call their committees together before that time, in order to have some report of work commenced to give at the next meeting.

Monroe Barber a Snicker.

Because of difficulties he is said to have encountered in the past few weeks, John A. Schindler, aged 35 years, a barber, went into the cellar of his home in Monroe Sunday night ostensibly to care for the furnace and shot himself through the heart with a revolver.

In Appreciation.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to all my friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the recent sickness and death of my brother, Jacob Hinsberger, also those who sent floral tributes. MRS. FRANK STENGLEIN—advertisement.

TWO KILLED WHEN TRAIN HIT AUTO

Auto in Which Six Were Riding Stalled on Flatbush Avenue Crossing Monday Afternoon—DeCicco Girls Instantly Killed.

Monday afternoon at 4:09 o'clock Rosie and Emma DeCicco, aged 11 and 8 years respectively, were instantly killed, while Frank DeCicco, their brother, and Joseph and James Nerone and Theresa DeCicco, escaped with slight injuries, when the automobile in which they were riding became stalled on the Flatbush avenue crossing and was hit by a West Shore train in charge of Engineer Jack Richards and Conductor George Cook. The automobile was wrecked. The dead girls were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeCicco of East Kingston.

At the time of the accident Frank DeCicco, who is a student at Spencer's Business College, was taking the five children home from St. Mary's School, which they attended. In driving across the railroad tracks the engine stalled. DeCicco when he saw the approaching train called to the children to jump from the auto.

Before the other girls could jump the train hit the auto, which was hurled against the gates.

The bodies of the two little girls were horribly mangled, and parts of the bodies were picked up one hundred feet from the scene of the collision. The bodies were turned over to Undertaker N. D. J. Murphy and Coroner E. A. Kelly issued death certificates.

A remarkable feature of the accident was the fact that the other members of the party escaped practically uninjured.

Frank DeCicco claims he was under the crossing gates when the gate-man, Coleman McDonough, dropped them on the automobile. Just who was to blame for the accident is not known.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Felix Katz, a member of the 1917 graduating class, and who is now a student of Columbia University, has distinguished himself as a member of the Columbia Orchestra, and also as first trumpeter in the Columbia Band. The school, the citizens, his relatives, all have a right to be proud of Felix, for it is not every freshman in a college of over a thousand students that is able to so distinguish himself either in music or along any other lines.

For the last two years visitors at the high school were most royally entertained by the High School Orchestra, of which Felix was a prominent member, and these especially will be pleased to hear this fellow news about their old friend, Felix.

The Debating Club of the high school, of which we have heard but little this year, has of a sudden become fully awake. They have made plans for two debates, one which is a try-out for the boys who are going out for the team, and the other which is more or less of a farce, is between a picked team of boys of the Debating Society and a team of girls picked from the "Prismas," a girls' literary society. The first debate is on the question of whether or not the boys who leave school for the far west next spring should receive credit for their school work. The affirmative is upheld by Sam Weisman, leader, with Bertram Margolis and John Cooper, while the negative is upheld by Carl Corson, leader, with Fred Merritt and Harold Koch. The debate will take place in Hall B at the high school, November 21, immediately after school.

The second debate is on the question of whether or not the girls are better debaters than the boys. The affirmative is upheld by the boys of the Debating Club, while the negative is upheld by the girls of the "Prismas."

GEN. COUNT CADORNA.
IDOL OF THE ITALIAN PEOPLE
RELIEVED OF HIS COMMAND.

General Cadorna, who has been in supreme command of the Italian army since the beginning of the war, has been replaced because of the success of the Austro-German drive into Italy. General Cadorna has been an idol of the Italians because of his successes last year. He has been given a place on the newly created Inter-Allied Military Committee, which will supervise a counter campaign against the Teutonic troops.

Christmas Gifts That Are Sure to Please

A CHRISTMAS gift that can't be used and enjoyed is a disappointment. The average man or woman would rather receive a post card with a cheerful "Merry Christmas" on it than a gift that is just perfunctory. The war has made us all alert this year for the cheer and welfare of our boys on the sea and in the army. So why not knit the young patriots gray wool sweaters and those excellent long-wristed mittens, with finger tips missing not to impede their work at the riggings and behind the guns? Uncle Sam does not furnish the boys with these two winter luxuries.

Illustrated is a desk set for father, hubby or sweetheart. If you are clever you can save it out of thin pine and enamel it beautifully, filling it with good paper, pens and stamps. Or you can make the frame of stiff cardboard and cover it with any attractive paper that matches his den or library.

Handmade lingerie is always a test of affection. So make sister an understated made of crepe de chine. One yard and a quarter of a good quality of crepe, the same quantity of beading and a little more narrow ribbon are required. Cut the rest straight, hem on the bottom, put the beading across the top and run the ribbon through it. Six sachets filled with the favorite scent of the recipient and made, say, in heart shape edged with narrow lace, would be attractive, and they are always useful. Little lavender silk bags filled with dried lavender flowers would be appreciated by anyone with a linen closet.

Let's Didn't Meet.

Dickie was out playing on a damp, cold morning dressed in a thin suit and short socks. Later he entered the house vainly trying to pull his little trouser leg down to reach his sock, and said to his mother: "Dickie's all warm, mamma, 'cept where his legs don't meet."

Soldiers and Sailors at Battle Front Do Not Have to Pay Postage—Send Christmas Mail Early—Other Notes of Interest.

Under the ruling of the post office department letters written and mailed by soldiers, sailors and marines assigned to duty in a foreign country engaged in the present war may be mailed free of postage, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the postmaster general. However, only such soldiers, sailors and marines who are assigned to duty in a foreign country engaged in the present war are entitled to mail their letters free, and in order to be entitled to this privilege such letters must bear in the upper left hand corner the name of the soldier, sailor or marine, together with the designation of the organization or unit to which he belongs.

Relatives and friends desiring to write to any soldier, sailor or marine in a foreign country engaged in the present war has to pay only the domestic rate that applies in this country.

Christmas Packages.

Domestic rates apply also on parcel post packages and the weight limit is 7 pounds. Christmas packages for American expeditionary forces are taken care of in the following post office department order, which allows a weight limit of 20 pounds. If the rules are complied with, this order is of especial interest to any desiring to send Christmas packages to the boys abroad and is given in full below:

20 Pound Packages.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27, 1917. Owing to the limited and irregular shipping facilities available for handling the large amount of Christmas parcels for the troops, the war department has consented to receive and deliver through its channels of communication to soldiers in France Christmas packages for soldiers up to 20 pounds in weight when addressed as follows:

Name of Soldier.

Unit to which he belongs.

Care of Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, N. J.,

Pier 1, Hoboken, N. J.,

packed and mailed in accordance with the following directions:

All parcel post matter must conform to the postal regulations and in addition must be inclosed in wooden boxes with not exceeding 20 pounds for the package, the box to measure not to exceed two cubic feet in volume, to be of wood, to be well strapped, and to have a hinged or screw top to facilitate opening and inspecting. No perishable food products other than those inclosed in cans or glass jars should be packed in any such shipment.

Such parcel post matter should be marked "Christmas Box" and should reach the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, N. J., Pier 1, on or before December 5, 1917.

The rate of postage on all parcel post matter intended for men in the service abroad, whether sent through the mail service direct under the 7-pound limit or sent in care of the Commanding General, Port of Embarkation, for delivery by military authorities to the addressee, is 12 cents a pound.

Second Class Mail.

There is no change in the rates for second class mail whether sent from offices of publications or by individuals and the domestic rates apply.

Mail by November 15.

Again it should be emphasized that all Christmas packages for the boys abroad should be mailed not later than November 15, in order that they may be delivered Christmas morning.

Money Orders.

There has been no change in the rate for money orders and they may be sent as in the past.

Heavier Trucks Spend More Gas Hauling Themselves than the Maxwell uses at Peak Load

The lowest priced one-ton truck in the world—$985. And a truck, mind you—not a delivery wagon built for trucking. Truck strength and truck length. We use more brains than metal in its construction—made it right to get it light.

Not a superfluous pound—not a missing excellence.

You buy lasting power—not bulk.

Designed for hard loads and tough roads. Sold with the same guarantee as $5,000 trucks are.

2,400 dogged, spunky, agile pounds, and built to carry more than that 365 days in the year and 24 hours to the day.

A work glutton and a tire miser. A 16-mile run with every gallon.

10-foot loading space.

The same type of worm drive that $5,000 trucks have hitherto featured as their own.

Pays its way from day to day.

We Want to Talk Heating With You

But mind you, we are not going to ask you to buy a single thing. All we want is just the chance to tell you what little we know about the strong points about this Kingstonian Boiler we are selling.

After we have told them to you—if that boiler doesn't sell itself to you, all we could ever say between now and next Election wouldn't move you an inch.

But just bear this in mind; no matter what "system" you install, the boiler is the vital thing.

If you want to come around and talk it over this evening, we'll stay down.

ANOTHER OF "JUKES"
FAMILY IN JAIL

The arrest at Ohioville on Monday afternoon of Warren Benjamin Robinson by Deputy Sheriff Jacob Huben of Rosendale on a charge of abduction revealed a condition of affairs in one of the Banks families that startled town and county authorities.

Robinson was arrested on complaint of Jesse Banks, who claimed that he had run away several days ago with his daughter, Julia Banks, who was born in 1901 but who gives her age as 18 years. Robinson for the past three years has been living with Banks and his family near Kyserke. He is 39 years old and a laborer by occupation. He was born at Ellenville.

After leaving Kyserke, Robinson and the Banks girl went to the home of an aunt of Robinson near Ohioville, and were there when arrested. The warrant was given to Constable Van Wageningen of the town of Marlinton to serve, but as he was unacquainted with the parties, he consulted Deputy Sheriff Huben, who knows them well. When he entered the house near Ohioville he saw the Banks girl. She denied that her name was Julia Banks or that she knew Robinson, but at the court house later in the day explained that she made the denial because she knew Deputy Sheriff Huben by sight.

While Deputy Sheriff Huben was talking to the girl in the house, she was crying, and when he heard Robinson, who demanded to know what the deputy sheriff wanted, Mr. Huben informed Robinson that he was under arrest. The others objected to Mr. Huben taking Robinson away, but Mr. Huben informed them that it was a serious charge and he was prepared to take his prisoner at any cost.

The warrant having been issued by Justice of the Peace Charles C. Hardenburgh of Stone Ridge and having been made returnable before Justice Christiana of the town of Marlinton, Mr. Huben and Constable Van Wageningen took Robinson to Stone Ridge but there learned that both Justice Christiana and Judge Hardenburgh were at the court house in this city. They accordingly brought Robinson to jail. Today the charge against him was changed to that of rape, and he was taken to the town of Marlinton for arraignment before Justice Goehls.

Deputy Sheriff Huben and Constable Van Wageningen also brought the Banks girl to the court house. The girl had no underclothing and her outer clothing was scanty. She was well wrapped up and at the court house was turned over to Mrs. Laura MacMillan, agent of the Bureau of Social Service, who ascertained from the girl that she desired to remain over night at the jail because it was warm there and she had no other place where she could go. Permission to keep her there was obtained by Mrs. MacMillan from Sheriff Smithe.

The Banks girl has five brothers and sister who are younger than she is. They have no more clothing than she has, and unless the authorities take care of the family their prospect for the winter is dismal. Their mother is dead.

According to the story told by the Banks girl to officials at the court house, not only will a serious charge be leveled against Robinson but a far more serious charge may possibly be leveled against her father.

Robinson and the Banks girl belong to the famous Ulster county family to which the generic name of "The Jukes" has been given.

Met to Canvass Vote.
The common council met Monday evening as a board of canvassers to canvass and tabulate the vote at last Tuesday's election, but because the soldier vote is not in the canvass will be delayed for some time. Alderman Connelly, who presided, appointed Alderman Kuitman, Hull, Powell and Leverich as a committee to canvass and tabulate the vote.

Increase in Capital.
A certificate of increase of capital stock of the Prince Lauten Company has been filed in the county clerk's office. The amount of capital stock is increased from $200,000 to $400,000.

ELECTION EXPENSES.

Candidates File Their Statements
With Board of Elections.

John I. Becker, Prohibition candidate for coronator in the recent election, has filed his statement of election expenses with the board of elections. He received nothing and spent $1.45, which was paid to the New Paltz post office, evidently for postage.

Supervisor John D. Frattcher of Saugerties, who was re-elected, received nothing and spent $25 for traveling expenses and $10 for meals and cigars.

Lewis Boyce, Prohibition candidate for town clerk of the town of Saugerties, received nothing and spent nothing.

John H. Beaver, Republican candidate for supervisor of the town of Esopus, received nothing and spent $15 for traveling expenses, $4 for cigars and twenty cents for postage.

"The Hanging of the Crane."

A variety show, followed by dancing, will be given by members of the Girls' Friendly Society at Holy Cross parish house, Thursday, November 15. "The Hanging of the Crane" will be given by the members of the society, assisted by the young men of the church. The program will include the following: Aesthetic dancing, Miss Marian Kearney; boy soprano, Master Herbert Schwab; selections from "Oh! Boy," members of G. F. S.; trio, the Misses Faulkner; period dancing in costume, Miss Margaret Dolan and Miss Elizabeth Koeniger; patriotic tableau, Miller's orchestra for general dancing.

Holiday Goods in Stock Now.

Many of the stores in this city have already put in a large stock of holiday goods, and the slogan "do your holiday shopping early" will be emphasized more this year than usual, because it is expected that the Christmas shopping season will be heavier than usual. Many presents will be bought for the soldiers and they will be bought early. Several stores are making a specialty of articles that will make appropriate gifts for them.

Decreased Sales Not Noticeable.

Local tobacco dealers report that there has been practically no decrease in their sales because of the advance in the prices of cigars and cigarettes and some brands of tobacco on account of the war tax. Dealers find it a hard proposition to keep enough pennies on hand to make change, as most of the five cent cigars and packages of cigarettes are selling for six cents and many of the cigars that formerly sold for ten cents are now selling for 12 cents.

THIS DOG BIT LION'S TAIL

Humorist Permits the Canine to Relate His Own Experience on Circus Day.

Don Marquis, the famous humorist, has written a story about a dog and a boy for the American Magazine. The dog tells the story and he says: "One circus day, after Freddie and I and all the other dogs and boys and humans in town had followed the grand parade to the lot where the show was and there wasn't anything else free to see, I went and lay down in Doc's drug store under the soda water counter. I was asleep there, and was dreaming I was chasing a rabbit, when a big, heavy, yellow dog came bulging into the store and bounced over the counter and lit right on top of me with a growl—at least, at the time I thought he was a dog. I bit him, and he gave another growl that shook the medicine bottles on the shelves and bulged out of the store again. And as he bounced into Main street I bit him again. And after I bit him the second time I saw he wasn't another dog at all, but the circus lion that had got loose somehow. He was a kind of a moth-eaten old lion, and he was just as frightened at the town people as they were at him—but he was a lion, all right, and my brave act in biting him was seen and noted by everyone in town who had not crawled into cellars or under beds when he let out those roars. And I became a hero right there; or, as Doc Watson said, a public character."
